

BOAT

International

US
EDITION

THE ADVENTURE ISSUE

- > HOW TO NAVIGATE THE NORTHWEST PASSAGE
- > CRUISING IN THE DANGER ZONE
- > OWNING THE TOUGHEST BOAT AFLOAT

SCHOOL OF ROCKS
Meet the marble artisans behind the world's best yachts

FAIR

EXCLUSIVELY ON BOARD FEADSHIP'S NEW 305FT BEAUTY

LADY

ShowBoats

DISPLAY UNTIL 10/01/2019

This is the modern world

A century after Bauhaus was founded by Walter Gropius, the Modernist movement remains as inspiring as ever, says Mieke ten Have

INTERIORS

1. Dessert plate by Laboratorio Paravicini, from $70, paravicini.it
2. Euclid marble tiles by Alison Rose, POA, artistictile.com
3. Gunta wool blanket, $200, zigzagzurich.com
4. D4N chair by Kerstin Bruchhäuser for Tecta, POA, bauhausnowhaus.de
5. Cubism fixture, $1,964, urbanelectric.com

Solar so good

Designer Nina Edwards Anker is at the nexus of architecture, interiors, landscaping and furniture design, all bound by a sustainable focus and a deep reverence for the natural world. Having received her doctorate from the Oslo School of Architecture and Design, the Peter Marino alumna has garnered international accolades for her work across mediums. The nea studio's recently released Solar collection combines Edwards Anker's interest in sustainable and solar design. It includes an outdoor lounge chair that illuminates for 12 hours at night, and outdoor lamps with tilting solar panels that change according to latitude, turning on automatically at dusk. Her body of work is a must for the design-minded and eco-aware. neastudio.com

